But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by. Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven. (Luke 21:9-11)

70 Years Of Prophecy Fulfilled

September 21-22, 2017, is the Feast of Trumpets or Jewish New Year. It is also the 70 year anniversary of the UN resolution allowing for Israel to be recognized as a state, and it is the 50th anniversary of the reclaiming of Jerusalem. Israel has transformed the land of sand dunes and swamps to a beautiful, vibrant and productive country. In the Bible, God promises the Nation of Israel that if they are even in exile, the land will be left desolate. For 2,000 years, Israel's enemies occupied the land, but were unable to cultivate it. The land lay desolate. In the last 100 years, as God has brought back His people to the Land of Israel, we have witnessed the fulfillment of His promise, along with the fulfillment of the prophecies of Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel. Jews have returned to Israel from the four corners of the earth and have prospered in the land. With the return of the Jewish people to their homeland, they have revived the Hebrew language, made the desert bloom, and are at the forefront of development in the medical, agricultural, and technological fields. “Firsts” And Record-Setting Disasters

For the last three weeks, the United States and North America has experienced many “firsts” and set many records. Is God speaking to our nation and our continent? Wake up America and turn to God while there is time!

August 21. First ever total solar eclipse from west to east coast of US, and visible only in the US.

August 25. Harvey, the first category four hurricane to make landfall in US since 2004. (cnn.com 8/25) Harvey with 51.88 feet of rain, broke the record for rainfall from a single storm in the continental United States. (mic.com) The first time ever the Addicks reservoir has spilled over. Harvey dumped 15 to 20 trillion gallons of rain and would fill Chicago's McCook Reservoir 1,500 to 2,000 times over. (Chicago.cbslocal.com) Officials are calling this catastrophic flooding an 800-year event. (Wall Street Journal, August 28, 2017)

September 3. Wildfires are chewing across dried-out Western forests and grassland, putting 2017 on track to be among the worst fire seasons in a decade. (onenewsnow.com 9/8) Firefighters in California were battling 19 large wildfires statewide, officials said Sunday, including a raging out-of-control fire that was being called the largest ever in Los Angeles history. (USAToday 9/3)

September 6. Serious drought conditions are in Illinois, Colorado, Montana, and South Dakota with fires burning in some areas. (drought.gov 9/6)

September 6. At 5:10 AM EDT, the Sun unleashed an X2.2 flare, with X-class denoting the most intense flares. Then, at 8:02 AM EDT, a much bigger flare measuring X9.3 was unleashed. By comparison, the last time we saw a flare this big was in 2006, which measured at X9.0. The loops of plasma emitted during these two flares were ten times the size of planet Earth. Scientists say the timing of these big flares is rather odd as the Sun is currently heading towards the quieter period of its 11-year solar cycle known as solar minimum. The earth has already been affected by black-outs. (freedomoutpost.com 9/7)

September 8. 90 dead in the most powerful quake, 8.1, to hit Mexico in 100 years. (secondcoming-herald.com 9/11) At the same time Mexican agencies were already bracing for category 2 Hurricane Katia on the other side of the country. (onenews-now.com 9/8)

September 10. First time ever two category five hurricanes were in the Atlantic at the same time, Irma and Jose. Hurricane Irma had an eye as large as the entire Detroit metro area. It is reported that about 90% of the homes in the Florida Keys and in St. Maarten are damaged and 95% of the Island of Barbuda, has been destroyed. It is being projected that some areas of Puerto Rico could be without power “for between four and six months.” Irma was the worst single hurricane to hit Florida since Andrew, 25 years ago. It is the largest hurricane ever to hit the US, measuring 400 miles across. Hurricane Irma maintained 185 mph winds longer than any other storm on record. It had the largest evacuation order in history. About 60% of the State of Florida has lost electric power. Since storm damage is still being evaluated, many statistics are not available. State and federal government budgets are being greatly stressed with FEMA assisting in Texas, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Florida and Georgia, all at the same time.

It's Been a Stormy Start to 2017 in the U.S., Tying the 2nd -Most Natural Disasters on Record. Dozens of savage hailstorms and tornadoes wreaked havoc across the U.S., causing billions of dollars of damage and leading to the second-most disaster-laden season on record. As of the end of July, the U.S. has endured 49 separate weather, climate and flood disasters, according to data from Munich Re, a global reinsurance firm. (USAToday 7/24)

NASA is Testing Plan to 'Redirect' Asteroids On Collision Course With

Earth. Humanity could face one less doomsday scenario if NASA has its way. On Friday, the space agency announced plans to redirect the course of a small asteroid approaching Earth, as part of the Double Asteroid Redirection Test (DART), according to a NASA press release. The release notes that asteroids hit Earth nearly every day, but most are small enough to burn up in the atmosphere. But the DART project, a joint effort between NASA and the John Hopkins Applied Physics Labo-

Arctic Doomsday Seed Vault Flooded

After Permafrost Melts. It was designed as an impregnable deep-freeze to protect the world's most precious seeds from any global disaster and ensure humanity's food supply forever. But the Global Seed Vault, buried in a mountain deep inside the Arctic circle, has been breached after extraordinary temperatures over the winter, sending meltwater gushing into the entrance tunnel. "A lot of water went into the start of the tunnel and then it froze to ice, so it was like a glacier when you went in," was told to the Guardian. Fortunately, the meltwater did not reach the vault itself, the ice has been hacked out, and the precious seeds remain safe for now at the required storage temperature of -18C. Prince Charles and Islam's

"Sacred Spirituality". On December 13th, at Wilton Park, the Prince of Wales explained how the Muslim critique of materialism helped him to rediscover the sacred spirituality of Islam and explain the decline of the West. What Prince Charles calls an "integrated and integral view of the sanctity of the world" in Islam is not exactly clear. What is clear is that many Muslims have a most peculiar way of demonstrating their belief in the "sanctity of the world," by engaging in endless warfare, of every conceivable type. And while Charles claims to find a deep respect in Islam for "the timeless traditions of the natural order," he does not think to include among those the submission of non-Muslims to Muslims, and of Muslim women to Muslim men, and of Muslim men marrying girls as young as 9, nor the "timeless tradition" of slavery.

(jihadwatch.com 12/30/16) It is also interesting to note that a while back Prince Charles had announced he was a descendent of the Tribe of Dan.
